

19th March 2020

Sangwin Group Holdings Ltd is taking the Covid-19 virus very seriously and continue to closely monitor the dynamically evolving situation.

Our aim is to provide a continuous service throughout the group with minimum disruption to our business, supply chain and clients.

We are doing everything we can to remain focused on delivering our services whilst being extra careful with hand washing made mandatory before entering sites and the office/factory/workshop for all employees and visitors.

Where possible office staff will be working from home, without disrupting service, and we have reduced the numbers of employees working in the factory by splitting the workforce into two, introducing two shifts.

We will be taking the governments advice when it is updated and we will continue to update you on any further advice from them.

We thank all of our colleagues who are working hard to help keep our business running.

Further updates will be available via our website. www.sangwin.co.uk

Thank you for your continued support.

Sangwin Group of Companies.
